

Bright Portal

Client visibility, actionable insights, and new revenue opportunities — natively built into your Deposco platform.

Bright Portal

Your clients are emailing you for status updates. You're pulling reports manually. And somewhere in that back-and-forth, your value as a 3PL is getting lost.

Deposco's Bright Portal fixes that. Unlike visibility tools that just surface data, Bright Portal is built around action — giving your clients the ability to update orders, manage cancellations, adjust forecasts, and respond to alerts directly in the portal. Your team stays in control of what they can do and what they can see, but the back-and-forth stops.

The impact goes beyond visibility. Instead of answering status calls, your team is running QBRs backed by real data. Instead of reacting to client complaints, you're flagging issues before they become problems. And with collaborative planning built in, the portal becomes a tool for growing the relationship — not just servicing it.

The value runs deeper than what clients see — surfacing profitability data that most operators have never had easy access to, so you know exactly where to focus your time and resources.

Your brand on the outside, Deposco intelligence on the inside. No custom development, no third-party tools, no implementation project.
